Russell Sage lived long, leading money, piling up tens of millions, then died, leaving all to his wife. She died, leaving all to a "Russell Sage Foundation." In memory of her husband. The foundation has decided to spend money mapping out the development and expansion of New York city for the next hundred years. If a committee one hundred years ago had planned for a century of New York extension, the committee would be surprised if it could return today. Still more surprised would be today's committee if it should come back a hundred years from now.

It might find many city blocks thrown into one to make safe landing places for flying machines—Manhattan island one big business office, the real city on Long Island and across the Hudson in New Jersey.

Or it might find city government a mere shell, the population of the city cut down to almost nothing, with the millions living far off on the hills flying to their work, some to a great factory in one location, others to a business building in another location, with cities and towns gone, and specialized buildings a mile or more square replacing them. The ant hill that we call a city, with its drafts, its noise, its stinks, will not exist always.

Mr. Dempsey, white heavy-weight, will fight Mr. Wills, black heavy-weight, in Montreal July 1. Montreal guarantees: First, no interference with the fight; second, no objection to mixed colors. One million dollars gave money in expected.

Suppose some "master" from equatorial Africa should put into the ring with the white man one of their half-brothers, an eight-foot-tall, half-black gorilla. And suppose that gorilla should take Dempsey in one hand and throw him out of the ring to the left, take the black man and throw him to the right, saying: "Give me the million dollars." It won't happen, but how interesting it would be.

A full-sized eight-foot gorilla with a chest 120 inches round would throw Dempsey as Dempsey would throw a kitten. For my master, an orang outang half the size of Dempsey could dispose of him in thirty seconds.

That shows how unimportant mere brute force is.

However, it is the only thing that really interests men brutes, and they are willing to pay a million to see what they want to see.

The "human fly" scolded by the police, crawls up the outside of houses, enters through an upper window, steals what he wants.

How energetically the public would fight that burglar fly if he became numerous.

How indifferent the public is to the common house fly, more dangerous than any burglar. The "human fly" enters houses, but does not leave disease on the food that children eat. He does not crawl with dirty legs over the mouths of sleeping infants.

A mother that would scream with horror if she saw the common fly crawl in, goes calm about her business with dozens of the more dangerous flies doing their work.

Let her think about that, and she would find that the flying season is the time to kill the fly, before she gets under way with her breeding work that will mean millions of more flies by fall.

In a Chicago labor dispute, building tradesworkers agreed to accept Judge Landis as arbitrator. When his decision did not suit they refused to abide by it. That was a bad thing for union labor, and sensible workmen know it.

There was trouble again, two policemen were murdered in one day, a third shot and buildings were attacked with dynamite bombs. That is a much worse thing for labor.

The crimes have nothing to do with tens of thousands of hard-working men in the building trades. But, as law holds a man responsible for the acts of his servants, so public opinion holds workmen responsible for the acts of their leaders.

Union men have complained of a long while effort to keep unions. That may exist. But all it might accomplish in ten years is to insure unions would be as nothing compared to what so-called labor leaders' when they resort to murder and dynamite.

School authorities of Pennsylvania will expel no more school teachers with bobbed hair. They prefer to tolerate "freaks."

A school teacher with long hair must wait at least one in two weeks. When she washes it, she must sit around in front of the radiator, or the electric fan—that gives her a headache with her back to the sunlight, with a towel over her shoulders. She must wash it, comb it, dry it. And then she can't do anything with it.

Which is the freak, the woman?

MARTIN REPLES TO MAJOR CURLEY

Is Ready to Back Up He Charges He Made

"Mayor James M. Curley is going to find me the most active and enthusiastic corpse he ever sepped around with," declared Representative Martin M. Lomasney today.

It was after the Mahatma of the West End had been informed that the Mayor had referred to him as an old man and politically dead.

The situation between the two, whose ancient grudges have been fanned into flame by fresh differences over the Elevated Control act, might be epitomized thus: In this corner, James M. Curley, heavy-weight Mayor of Boston and unquestionably holder of the title.

And in this corner, Martin M. Lomasney, pride of Ward Five, the challenger. He is sixty years old, but the word "game" was invented to describe him.

Both members of the Democratic party.

Will the people of Boston see the lineup above for a legislative committee one of these days?

There was no sign today of lessening of the tension of the two, which followed Curley's attack on Lomasney's nay two days ago.

Lomasney's nay two days ago, after yesterday, when, in one of his usual, today she was searched by the acts of the crowd.

A "mystery ship," suspected by local authorities of the Department of Justice of being a runaway, crept into port last night and was promptly placed under attack yesterday, when, in one of his usual, today she was searched by the acts of the crowd.

The House Rules Committee this afternoon recommended passage of an order calling upon Attorney General Allen to test constitutionality of the Sheppard-Towner Federal maternity act to bring suit in such court as he deems proper.

Two Men Held as Suspected Auto Thieves After Thrilling Pursuit

A patrolman with drawn revolver fired several shots at a suspected gunman and auto thief in a chase through the Public Garden today. He later captured the man at Newbury and Berkeley streets.

The shooting and capture led to the arrest of two men suspected of being Brighton automobile bandits who have stood over sensational holdups of late.

OFFICER FIRES SHOTS. The police claim the man was guilty of a shot at an automobile belonging to a Brighton club of late.

The chase ended when Anne M. Paul of No. 1301 street, Back Bay, reported an automobile stolen from her garage of her Sumner home in Quincy, a week ago, being driven by two men.

The chase from Arlington street into Brighton street, to Providence street.

On the way Patrolman Robert Diaz, traffic officer in Boylston street, had been picked up.

In Providence street, Patrolman Diaz and the chauffeur leaped on to the stolen machine just as the man perceived its officer and attempted to back out from parking space.

Both men were taken to the Back Bay station under arrest.

They gave the names of John E. Black (nineteen years old, of No. 11 Quincy avenue, Alston and Adair S. Scott of No. 48 Mount Vernon avenue, Brighton).

Invents Gun That Fires 1,000 Shots Every Minute

New York, May 12.—It's the hand's next move.

General John Taliaferro Thompson, formerly of the United States Army, has invented a gun that, among other things, fires a thousand shots a minute.

What chance will a gangster have when he faces a cop with the new gun that will fire 2,000 shots continuously without becoming overheated?

General Thompson put his new gun through its paces today at Tenafly, N. J., and blushed when he thought of what it will do to handits.

SENATE ORDERS INQUIRY INTO STEEL MERGER

New York, May 12.—The stock of the Lackawanna Steel Company, which had risen to $28 1/2 on the exchange today while Wall Street excitedly discussed the bombshell announcement of the merger of that great concern with the Bethlehem Steel Company, the young giant controlled through the force of Charles M. Schwab following his retirement from the U. S. Steel Corporation nineteen years ago.

Washington, May 12. (By International News Service)—A governmental investigation of the proposed merger of the six independent steel corporations into one gigantic organization was ordered today by the Senate.

The probe will be carried out by the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission under a resolution sponsored by Senator La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin. The resolution was adopted without a record vote.

The men who control this basic commodity control the nation's steel.

"Today they are proposing to bring the industry under one consolidated control, so that in future instead of operating through parties, they will be able to make agreements between the two great corporations which will dominate the industry."

"Gary dinners will no longer be necessary. Instead the heads of the two great corporations will be able to sit down at a lunch table and without fear of detection fix the price of every pound of steel sold in the United States."

"For a generation the Department of Justice in its administration of the Sherman anti-trust act has proceeded on the theory of locking the barn door after the horse was stolen."

TWO SEEK DEATH IN BOSTON

Wollaston, Forest Hills and Back Bay Women Swallow Suicidal Draughts

Despondent because her middle-aged husband was seeking annulment of their marriage, Mrs. Ethel M. Bailey, twenty-eight years old, attempted suicide today by taking bicarbonate of mercury in the home of Raymond J. Galvin, No. 15 Whittier street, Dorchester.

She had worked for Mr. Galvin four years ago. Mrs. Bailey was reported dying at the City Hospital.

She was the third woman in Boston to attempt suicide within the last few hours. The other two drank iodine.

NOUGHT ANNULMENT. Miss Emily F. Towser of Action road, Forest Hills, drank poison in the Tremont Building after she learned that her seven-year search for her baby was probably doomed to failure.

Mrs. Olive Waugh, twenty-six years old, attempted her own life by the poison route in her apartment at No. 1088 Commonwealth avenue.

Mrs. Bailey had lived until a few weeks ago with her husband in Wollaston. He by taking bicarbonate of mercury in the home of Raymond J. Galvin, No. 15 Whittier street, Dorchester.

He sought annulment of their marriage on the ground that when she married him she was not legally free to marry.

His contention was that the time limit was not up on her divorce from Edward Luke Davis, whom she married in April, 1916, and who divorced her in November of 1916.

MYSTERY VILL ATTEMPT. Mrs. Bailey left him a few weeks ago, according to Mrs. Galvin, a few days ago when she tried to go back. He thrust her out, according to the same authority.

About 6 o'clock last night Mrs. Galvin went to the Galvin home. She was an auto dealer and proprietor of the St. James dance hall. He was not at home, she talked for hours to his wife, telling her troubles.

As Mr. Galvin went into the house, shortly after midnight, she ran into another room, and a few minutes later a low woman informed the Galvin that she was in distress. She had taken three poison tablets. He found her marriage she lived on Elm street.

LAY EXHIBIT JUDGE'S 'FINANCE' SEEKS ESTATE

DISPUTE OVER ESTATE

Mrs. Charlotte B. Rich Still Invents, However, She Was to Wed Stricken Jurist

Knew that a movement was under way to have the body of the late Judge Edward C. Potter, who dropped dead in the Home Savings Bank some days ago, exhumed for an autopsy and chemical analysis, became known today with the arrival here of J. Rife Seabrook, attorney at St. Johnsbury, Vt., representing relatives of the late jurist.

It also became known that the relatives of Judge Potter are preparing to fight any claim against the estate which they declare may be made by Mrs. Charlotte B. Rich of Salem, Mass., who was with Judge Potter at the time of his death.

Mrs. Rich, one of the few mourners at the funeral of Judge Potter in St. Johnsbury yesterday, announced that she had been engaged to be married to Judge Potter at the time of his death.

The claim of Mrs. Rich is that she was engaged to be married to Judge Potter at the time of his death. She claims that she was engaged to be married to Judge Potter at the time of his death.

Mrs. Rich and her son, John V. Rich, were among the few mourners who followed the body of the jurist to its last resting place in Vermont. She was expected back at her Dorchester home, but friends said she had been delayed by a visit to Mrs. Rich, said this same friend of the jurist.

There should be no difficulty in proving that Judge Potter was married to Mrs. Rich, said this same friend of the jurist. "He was crazy about her."

DOUBT JUDGE LEFT MUCH
Judge Potter and his wife were at the home of a mutual friend in Brookline more than a year and a half ago. At that time Mrs. Rich was living in a house of her own at No. 184 Sayn Hill avenue, Dorchester.

The Judge was immediately impressed with the handsome widow from the first, and shortly after meeting her arranged to go to her house as a boarder.

Mattapan Nurse Escaped From Hands of Turk Brigands

By International News Service.
New York, May 12.—"Lies! All damned lies!"
With these words, a nurse of rage and mortification glistening in her eyes and as one small foot stepped in anger, Peggy Hopkins Joyce told stories of loose, breaking, home-wrecking and wild parties in Paris, on her arrival here from Europe today.

It was a serious-minded, sober and chastened Peggy that came back home from Paris. She brought with her more than 100,000 francs of money and jewels. She said she was going at once to Norfolk, Va., to visit and comfort her mother.

"Oh, I know what you are going to ask me," she exclaimed when approached by reporters.
"It was then the nurse's vigorous and emphatic denial."

CANT LIVE WITHOUT MEN.
PEGGY is not flippant. She said her one trouble was that she had been so serious and thus got into trouble.

She is not going to marry—at least not for some time. The aspiration she gets from men is essential to her.

"I cannot live without men," she exclaimed.
"When informed that the motion picture man had barred her from the movies, she was agitated. Her lips trembled as she exclaimed:

"Why, oh, why? I have not committed any crime. If it has come to pass that my name is to be coupled with crime, I am ready to face it. I am ready to face it. I am ready to face it."

It was at this point that Peggy made two interesting revelations. First, she said she was not a lawyer about bringing suit on account of the stories that have been published here about her.

Second, that she has written a book. "I am ready to face it," she said.

Lieutenant Riva Nuni, military attaché to the Chilean Legation in Paris, has been asked to see her. "It is a week ago because of her."

"In a week," she declared. "I did not see the man. I was not accused of anything except starting a fight with a man. I was not accused of anything except starting a fight with a man."

Other war crimes during my lifetime I will be blamed for. "I was not accused of anything except starting a fight with a man."

It was more likely that it happened. "I was not accused of anything except starting a fight with a man."

Many serious people get into trouble. "I was not accused of anything except starting a fight with a man."

"I came back because I wanted to get away from everything. I wanted to get away from everything. I wanted to get away from everything."

MISS ETHEL THOMPSON

Held captive for four hours by a band of brigands, Miss Ethel Thompson of No. 24 Monmouth street, Mattapan, has arrived in Constantinople. She escaped after the kidnapping of an auto in which she and four other Near East Relief workers were riding, frightened the bandit chieftain, according to dispatches.

The party was forced to make their way over the snow-covered mountains while caring for refugees and children.

For more than a year the relief workers have been cut off from communication by mail with their homes while caring for refugees and children.

Fought the "N.Y. The so-called "confession" or "hypnotic" letter in which Mrs. Anne U. Stillman is alleged to have confessed to her husband, James U. Stillman, that Fred Beauvais had "come into her life" and "ruined her."

It was stated today that the plaintiff has subpoenaed three new witnesses to reopen the attack upon Mrs. Stillman and has decided to recall Mary Kelly, employee at the Stillman country estate in the Poconos hills, who testified last year concerning a ring and letter alleged to have passed between Fred Beauvais and the banker's wife.

The proposed reopening of the plaintiff's case is the result of the story of innocence which Mrs. Stillman has told as a witness.

She took the stand today for further re-examination. Her defense of misconduct with Beauvais, who is named as correspondent, and her explanations of various things, which she said she had given to her father, were being contradicted by evidence introduced by the plaintiff.

PICKS ROCK AND DROPS INTO JAIL CELL
Having bought up a petty officer of H. M. S. Constantine and escaped from the Charleston police station, Robert Flanagan, a sailor attached to a ship now at the Charleston Navy Yard, was picked up by police.

His escape came to light today when Andrew Logan of the U. S. S. Maury was arrested, charged with assault and battery on Richard C. Kennedy, chief of police, and a rap, snatched from his head by a member.

Logan told the court Flanagan had been arrested on charges of kidnapping and had been held in the city jail, picking the lock on the door and marching out with a crowd of men which dropped the judge on duty.

He was held thirty days, and, appealing, was held in $200. Officers were detailed to try and find Flanagan.

NEGRO HELD FOR CUBAN RAY
Calvin Scott, a negro, of Stanford, Ala., was held in the city jail today for a hearing Tuesday, on a charge of assault and battery on fourteen-year-old white boy, who was the son of Enoch street, Malden. Scott pleaded guilty and in default of bail was committed to the city jail.

The assault is alleged to have taken place on the grounds of a circus. Malden Scott is reported to have struck the boy across the face with a club. The negro turned from an angry crowd and was found hiding in a parking lot.

Order was taken to the Malden hospital and today an X-ray photograph of his back will be taken to determine how serious the injury is.

CHARGE ALLEGED TRIED TO ROB CAFE OWNER
Judge Parmenter in the Municipal Court today held Edward Hannan, an Albanian, on $1000 bail for the Grand Jury on a charge of assault and battery with intent to rob.

Hannan was arrested at a coffee house on Columbus avenue. He was charged with having attacked the coffee-house keeper after the latter had given him a meal and ordered him to leave. Hannan was badly beaten by his assistant. Hannan was arrested after a chase.

ALSTON AUTOIST GETS 3 MONTHS, APPEALS
Joseph B. Alston, druggist, of Cohasset, Mass., was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction today, according to a verdict of the jury, for driving an automobile while under influence of liquor and fined $15 for drunkenness in Walworth Court today. He appealed and will be held in $400 bail for Superior Court.

Woman In Love Tragedy Bares Her Soul to Save Son's Honor

Willing to Let Curious World Look Into Pages of Life Seared by Fires of Three Romances.
This is the story of Bertha E. Bennett, loved by Oliver Blanchette, who in turn destroyed her life. She decided to tell the world her story. She decided to tell the world her story.

By BERTHA E. BENNETT.
A woman. A woman without honor. A creature who uses her womanhood for the destruction of men. This is what an unknown woman has labelled me.

And because my baby son is the only one for whose love I would surrender my honor, I am willing to let a curious world look into the pages of my life, previous to any woman, and decide whether I deserve the vituperation heaped upon me—or whether I have been misunderstood.

Because of me, they say, one man is a drunken wreck, another is a madman, and a third bears the stamp of murder.

My man is a drunken wreck, but no woman ever strangled him. I made a mistake, but I did not kill him. That man was my husband.

Another man is dead, but poison had made a murderer of him. He was killed as his friend released the dog that would have sent me into eternity.

A third man did bear the stamp of murder. But he stabbed me only twice as he feared a gun. I was being rescued by a friend. I missed his aim, his life and mine would have been the toll. If his shot went true, he knew that the electric chair or life in the penitentiary would have been his.

For this man I would give my life. They tell me his wife met him at the prison door when he was released and she went home with her. Am not sorry. I hope she will be good to him and give him the happiness that she never gave him before.

I never tried to "vamp" him. I made him my friend. He became so changed from his wife, "I was broken, materially and spiritually. I was a wreck. I was a wreck. I was a wreck."

He told me of his long suffering. I tried to comfort him. I tried to comfort him. I tried to comfort him.

CALL IT LOVE.
It is not love—anything you wish. It is not the selfish infatuation that makes a man or woman want to wreck the happiness of others. It is the feeling one human being has for another, which makes him or her other person dearer than life and their welfare greater than personal gain.

Oliver Blanchette lay dead at the foot of his bed. He was dead. He was dead. He was dead.

He was dead. He was dead. He was dead. He was dead. He was dead.

He was dead. He was dead. He was dead. He was dead. He was dead.

He was dead. He was dead. He was dead. He was dead. He was dead.

He was dead. He was dead. He was dead. He was dead. He was dead.

LABOR LEADERS

Chicago Law Forces Take Quick Action in Police Killings; War on Terrorism
Chicago, May 12.—Police and civic organizations today saw in the indictments of eight Chicago labor leaders and the state's attorney's threat to sue against them the last levered thirty-six years ago to obtain execution of the Haymarket rioters a smashing blow at what they termed gang terrorism.

In the first night session on record, a Cook County special grand jury returned the true bills charging murder against "Big Tim" Murphy, leader of the Gas Workers' Union; Fred Adler, president of the Chicago Building Trades Council; and Cornelius V. Connelley, secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters' Union, referred to as the "Big Three" of the vicious labor crime, and five others.

The indictments are foremen of scores of others, city and county officials said. More than 400 persons were arrested and but few have been released, with the greater number of them held for trial.

Others named in the indictments are leader Brannan, head of the Police Officers' Union; Daniel M. Carthy, business agent of the Plumbers' Union; Jerry Hogan, saloonkeeper; Thomas Hogan, former police officer, and Robert McCord, clerk in the Building Trades Council.

The eight are charged specifically with the killing of Terrence J. Lyons, being "Big Tim" Murphy, the Police Officers' Union; Daniel M. Carthy, business agent of the Plumbers' Union; Jerry Hogan, saloonkeeper; Thomas Hogan, former police officer, and Robert McCord, clerk in the Building Trades Council.

GIRL ARRESTED HERE AS RHODE ISLAND BIGAMIST

Marie Ferreira, a young woman of Marshfield street, Newport, R. I., is being held at the East Dedham street police station on a charge of bigamy. It is alleged that in September, 1915, she married a man in Thornton, R. I., and lived with him for six months. There she left him and later was married to Frank Causley, a chief petty officer in the navy. The girl is being held for the Rhode Island authorities.

FRANCE QUITS THE DISCUSSION OF RUSSIA

Paris, May 12.—Premier Poincaré today instructed the French delegation at the Geneva Conference not to withdraw, but to abstain from all further negotiations over the Russian problem.

Geneva, May 12.—The British conference at the Economic Conference has accepted Russia's reply as the satisfactory basis for an European treaty. It was officially announced today.

HUNT BURGLAR WHO SCARED WOMAN

Cambridge police today hunted a derisively titled burglar who so badly frightened Mrs. Grace Axman, twenty-four years old, when he climbed into her bedroom on Austin street, Cambridge, as she was sleeping. She has since been under a doctor's care.

The man was a dirty but not a very clever one. He crept under the door and when suddenly Mrs. Axman was in the dark by an open window when suddenly a man appeared at her elbow. "I was too paralyzed with fright to move," she said today. "I just stood frozen screaming as loud as I could."

As her husband, Harry Axman, awoke and leaped from bed, the burglar slipped through the window. Axman helped his wife to bed, then notified the police and a doctor. The fright left the young woman in a hysterical condition. Today she was under a doctor's care.

The Axmans have a two-year-old child, Harry Axman, Jr. He frolicked about the house today unaware that he had slept through a burglar's visit.

RADIO VACUUM TUBE NEEDS ATTENTION

In order to correct certain mistaken ideas as regards the handling of a vacuum tube during phone and telegraph reception, we are writing a number of short articles that will show the difference between the modes of handling the tube under these two conditions. First, in handling a vacuum tube for phone reception we wish to make it plain that it is not necessary to have the tube oscillating, in fact it is seldom desirable, as much clearer signals may be obtained using the vacuum tube as a simple detector unit.

The only possible advantage that can be derived by causing a vacuum tube to oscillate may be in possibly increasing the signal strength, but the disadvantage is that the signal is usually distorted in proportion to the amount of regeneration employed. We wish to make it clear that any type of receiver unit can be used for phone reception, namely either a mineral crystal type or vacuum tube type. We wish to understand that these remarks are to apply to the handling of a receiver for radio phone reception only.

It is also very necessary that the amateur should understand something about the handling and adjustment of his audion during phone reception. It is a usual practice among the amateurs to speak of good and bad vacuum tubes, whereas as a matter of fact there is in the majority of cases very little difference in the efficiency of any one provided that the tube is handled and adjusted properly.

In some cases, however, the tube may be either electrically or mechanically inferior, but by far the

Radio Fans Will Be Warned of Fire Protection

Washington, May 12.—To prevent a national epidemic of fires from defective radio installations, the Bureau of Standards is co-operating with the National Fire Protection Association, in a revision of the electrical code.

The national electrical fire code embodies regulations formulated by the National Board of Fire Underwriters to insure the safety of buildings in which electrical installations of any kind have been made.

If these requirements are not met, insurance may be refused entirely, or only granted at a much higher rate.

The tube is condemned, it would be charged, because of carelessness on the part of the user, who is warned that the tube had not been handled properly by the amateur. Thus we see the increasing necessity of making the proper adjustment on the tube.

The first adjustment that must be looked after is in the filament rheostat, the second adjustment that must be looked after is in the plate potentiometer, that is governed by the adjustable high voltage or "B" battery. It should be understood that vacuum tubes have a characteristic curve on some point of which they operate better than on others and that no two vacuum tubes are alike.

2 PORTUGUESE FLIERS SAFE ON BRITISH SHIP
 Pernambuco, Brazil, May 12 (By the Associated Press).—The Portuguese trans-Atlantic aviators, Captains Coutinho and Sacadura, are safe aboard the British steamship Paris City, says a wireless message from the Portuguese cruiser Republic.

The fliers, who had not been heard from since they left the island of Fernando Noronha at 8:50 o'clock yesterday morning, were picked up by the Paris City at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The message from the Republic's commander said he was hastening to meet the Paris City, and intended to transfer the aviators to his vessel.

ENGLAND CALLS FOR TRUCE IN EAST EUROPE

London, May 12.—"I am no longer hopeful of the outcome of the Genoa conference," Austria Chamberlain Lloyd George's spokesman in the House of Commons, declared today.

By the Associated Press
 Genoa, May 12.—Great Britain has proposed a truce in Eastern Europe, on the basis of the de facto frontiers, pending the conclusions of a commission of inquiry to be appointed, it was announced today.

Foreign Minister Bessie de Cichovskaya, speaking in the name of the little nation, expressed the opinion today that the conference must be adjourned within a few days, accepting the French proposal to appoint an international commission of experts, on which Russia would not be represented, to consider financial problems. This must be done, he said, in such a way as to avoid resentment, in order not to embitter the European situation.

CAMBRIDGE AND HUB INDORSE FREE INDIA

The fight for independence for India was officially recognized by the cities of Boston and Cambridge, through their representatives, at a given in the Westminster observance of the Independence Day of that nation. A large number of men and women attended.

Councillor Francis J. W. Ford of the City of Boston announced that he was happy to indorse officially the movement, while Mayor Edward J. Quinn of Cambridge declared that he took particular pride in standing solidly behind the cause.

Attorney Greenville A. MacFarland, presiding at the dinner, pointed out that India and China are "magic examples of the price a nation pays for pacifism." He continued:

INVOLVES ENTIRE WORLD.
 "China is now in the process of abandoning its pacifism and preparing to compel fair treatment by force. India, however, under the extraordinary leadership of Mr. Gandhi, great lawyer, reformer and philosopher, has undergone a determined to try once more the virtue of non-violent appeals to the sense of justice of the western peoples."

Mr. Ford then appealed to the large number of women present at the dinner to consider the question of India, which is forever and ever, "LINKS INDIA AND INDIA."

Councillor Francis J. W. Ford, representing the Mayor, said: "The soul of America marched forth for peace and liberty in the great World War and it was for this alone that our boys died. Now that the war is won we will lose the peace of the world unless we solve the two most important questions facing the world today. They are the freedom of Ireland and of India."

Mayor Edward W. Quinn of Cambridge, said that he took particular pride in coming to the meeting to lend his voice in obtaining freedom for India.

"When a nation seeks freedom it is the duty of the liberty loving people of America to help towards that end," he declared.

CALL TROOPS AS 1,000 NEGROES GO ON STRIKE

Haverstraw, N. Y., May 12.—Twenty State troopers were ordered into Haverstraw today to guard the town against threatened outbreaks of 1,000 negroes who are on strike in the thirty-five brick plants here. It was expected more troops would arrive from Albany and Troy later in the day.

Presence among the strikers of New York and Southern men, who have been in the town only two weeks, but who are charged with having fomented the strike, was feared by the local police and aid was asked from that State.

The men went on strike yesterday, asking $1.50 a day wages against the $2.50 they now receive.

OPEN FORUM ON DAYLIGHT SAVING

Do you approve or disapprove of Day Light Saving?
That question asked by the Boston American to its readers is bringing in a flood of answers.

So far the mothers of the State are lined up against the clock that sets the clock ahead one hour.

Like "Brookline," whose letter appeared in the Boston American the other day, they appear to regard daylight saving as a "millstone."

A letter from a "Group of New Bedford Mothers," said:

"Before we had this foolish daylight saving law there was enough silliness. But this is the worst by far. The Daylight saving law is apparently designed merely to please baseball players. We do not heed the housewives, the girls and the farmers who are against it."

"Nor do we appear to care about the farmers who are really suffering under the idiotic law. When our boys are back from the mill they hurry to eat a little supper and then scamper like fools to the baseball ground where they play for two or three hours. Is that healthy?"

"We think not for they come back home tired out—all in—and half dead. In the morning they have no time to eat anything under the new silly law."

"We are awfully grateful to the Boston American for taking this thing up."

From Lowell comes the following letter:

"I agree with 'Brookline.' This party is evidently one of the many women spoken of, or a man who has taken the trouble to find out what the majority of the people want."

"In addition to the reasons given by 'Brookline,' I could add that it makes the poor man poorer at the end of the season. Since this question is of vital interest to everybody it is one of the few 'public' questions that should be settled by the vote. If this was done I am confident that daylight saving will be consigned to the 'dark ages.' Like 'Brookline,' and with the same exceptions, I, too, have been opposed to daylight saving—and shall be until it can be proved that such a system is operating for the benefit of the majority."

M. R. Tarpe of Gardner, Mass., writes:

"Daylight saving works hardship on all housewives and school children. It is the most dangerous and foolish law ever made by any Legislature."

Reduced "L" Wage Scale Agreed to by Workers

The following table shows the reductions effected in the wages of Elevated motormen and conductors:

July 1, 1921	1.00
Jan. 1, 1922	.95
July 1, 1922	.90
Minimum 3 months	.85
Intermediate 9 months	.80
Maximum thereafter	.75

ELEVATED GUARDS' RATES

Minimum 3 months	.80
Intermediate 9 months	.75
Maximum thereafter	.70

'L' MEN ACCEPT REDUCTION IN WAGES

Members of the Boston Carriers' Union, numbering more than 5,000, have arrived at an agreement with the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway for a reduction in wages.

Commencing July 1, the minimum rate for conductors and motormen will be 43 cents, a reduction of 1 cent from the present scale. On January 1, 1923, the rate will be further reduced to 41 cents. This is a cut of 4 cents an hour, or 4 per cent, on the existing scale.

A corresponding reduction will be made in all other rates.

The differential rate paid to operators of one-man cars has been reduced to 3 cents per hour in addition to the regular rate, this being a cut of 10 per cent, on the rate now in force.

The agreement was reached after a lengthy conference.

A statement issued by Edward Dana, general manager of the "L," said the trustees have been assured of the continued cooperation of the employees affected in the effort to operate the system effectively and economically in the interests of the car riders.

The agreement now existing between the men and the company expires on July 1, and provides for a sixty-day period in which to negotiate a fresh agreement.

NO DEED, not only are the inspirations for these hats imported, but the very straws and trimmings themselves; gay colored French felts, decorated with unusual appliques of French tinsel ribbon—Italian legions with novel cutwork of French felt, hand-tinted in gilt; ribbon hats made of rows and rows of French grosgrain, combined with tulle and faced with imported straw binding; mannish tailored hats of Italian Milan. BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY Stage Stars Guests of Women's Trade Union League

By BETTY ALDEN

THERE are few things in life more fascinating to most people than actor-talk "off-stage." Which may be rather mysterious and unaccountable, but undeniably true—so to will the beloved actor or actress make his or her appearance in a public place.

All of which accounts for the large crowd who have planned to attend the The Dancant being held at the Copley-Plaza this afternoon from four until seven, where they will meet such all-important and positively blinding stars as Miss Marilyn Miller, and Leon Errol of "Bally" fame and William Courtney and his leading lady, Miss Charlotte Walker, now playing in "Smooth as Silk."

The affair, which is in the hands of a capable group of society folk, is in aid of the Women's Trade Union League, for whose benefit a number of successful entertainments have been staged by the fashionable contingent during the past season. I understand that practically every theatrical company in town is co-operating for the success of this afternoon's tea-dance through the promised presence of its stars, Eleanor Painter of "The Last Waltz," Gertrude Vanderbilt of "The Gold Diggers," Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruggles of "Ladies' Night," as well as representatives from the Jewett Players and the Boston Stock have also promised to lend their stellar presence to this affair.

But luminaries from the social as well as the theatrical world are to be on hand, for the group of hostesses includes the Medames Russell T. Fry (Dorothy Whipple), Nathaniel Emmons, J. Mott Halliwell, Alice L. W. Morison, G. B. Gage, Lois R. Ransford, Arthur G. Hatch, and Miss Bertha Braggiotti. The Misses Louise and Rose Fessenden have been selected to serve as junior hostesses and Robert Emmons, Jr., the head under, has correlated a host of Harvard undergrads to assist him in showing the guests about.

The tea-dance was planned for a most opportune time, and many of those attending the Actors' Benefit at the Tremont Theatre this afternoon are going on to the Copley-Plaza for the much-desired "off-stage" view.

I am asked to emphasize that everyone interested in the affair is most cordially invited. Tickets may be had at the door at $1.50 each. Low's orchestra is to furnish the music.

A MOST imposing array of names compose the patroness list for the assembly being held tonight at Braintree Hall in aid of the Cambridge Hospital. The committee, in charge, headed by Mrs. Wayland M. Minot, is of equal distinction, being composed of Madames A. Lawrence Lowell, Josephine Bell, Arthur Cabot, James Cabot, Joseph G. Thorp, Robert Walcott, P. Stewart Kershaw, E. K. Rand, Theodore C. Baker, Leon M. Little, Elliot S. Emerson and Richard M. Russell, as well as Messrs. Allen Jackson and Cushing Tappan.

The affair, which promises to be a social as well as financial success of the first water, will bring out practically the entire contingent of society folk living out Cambridge way, as well as a score of others living in town. Needless to say, several important dinner parties have been planned by hostesses out Cambridge way to precede the assembly.

Random Notes of Society Folk in Town and Country

BOSTON society was interested to learn of the marriage of Mrs. Laura McKinley Knowles, widow of the late Lucius James Knowles of Worcester, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McKinley of Park Avenue, New York, to Pierpont Langley Stockpile of Boston, a son of the late Stephen Henry Stockpile. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Markham Stockpile of Andover, a brother of the groom, took place at the home of the bride's family, with only members of the family in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Stockpile will spend the summer in Europe and in the Fall they will make their home in Boston.

ASK DISMISSAL OF $275,000 GAMBLING SUIT
Providence, May 12.—Frank L. Murray, owner of the Hilltop Inn, at East Greenwich, R. I., James B. Moran of the Hilltop Inn and John E. Hennessey, who are being sued by Edward T. Beamon, a New Bedford attorney, for $100,000, $10,000 and $100,000 respectively, because of losses sustained in gambling parties at that inn, today filed a demurrer in the United States District Court, asking that the suit be dismissed. Judge Brown took the matter under advisement.

DISABLED VETS TOLD TO FIGHT FOR RIGHTS

Three hundred disabled veterans of the World War, delegates to the annual convention of Disabled American Veterans, which opened at the State House today, cheered John M. Shields, speaking for Mayor James M. Curley, when he attacked the war profiteer and the draft dodger.

"When you left this country for the fighting front," said Mr. Shields, "the people who did not pass the draft and who did not wish to pass it stood on the pavement and cheered you. They told you that you were carrying the burden of America on your shoulders, and they bade you Godspeed. They shouted that when you came back the country would be yours."

"But when you took off your uniform after saving the miserable bones of those who stayed at home, including the war profiteers who exploited everything and everybody, you were left to walk the pavement. You were treated as second-class citizens. You stood a lot of abuse. No sooner had you left the country when the munition plants began paying huge wages and salaries to those who took your place and tremendous profits to those in the business."

"You will have to fight hard for all that is yours. They'll keep you flat on your back unless you maintain your organization and show strength all along the line."

Mr. Shields told the veterans that Mayor Curley had in eight weeks found jobs for 15,000 men, most of whom are former service men.

The department commander of the organization is Clifford Green. He is in charge of the general arrangements for the delegates. Dinner was served at the City Club. Governor Chandler H. Cox was a speaker at the afternoon session of the convention.

The delegates will attend a theater party this evening. Election of officers will be held tomorrow.

URGE LADY ASTOR BE DEPORTED

Providence, R. I., May 12.—The Federal government was asked to deport Lady Astor as an undesirable alien by General A. R. Bart Champe, Spanish War Veterans, in a resolution adopted.

The action of the members followed a lively discussion over charges that the members of the G. A. R. had been insulted in speeches made by the only feminine member of the British Commons during her visit to this country.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN ENDS LIFE IN SOUTH STATION

An unidentified negro about thirty-five years old, shot himself fatally in the chest in the washroom at the South Station today. He was viewed by Medical Examiner Leary, who ordered the body removed to the City Hospital morgue.

The dead man had apparently been ill and out of funds. A box of tablets and a safety razor were found in his pockets.

JURY ADJOURNS WITHOUT ACTION ON ALLEN CASE

The Suffolk County Grand Jury adjourned today until the first Monday in June without having taken any official action on the charges against Attorney-General J. Weston Allen, accused of larceny from a client.

Attorney-General Allen visited the office of District Attorney O'Brien yesterday and asked permission to appear before the Grand Jury today. The outcome of that conference is not known. Mr. Allen did not visit the Grand Jury before adjournment today.

CAPE VERDEANS SLIP IN AT WESTPORT, MASS.

New Bedford, May 12.—Twenty-six Cape Verdeans were smuggled into this country at Westport, Massachusetts, today, while their mother ships waited for the New Bedford police.

The Cape Verdeans were landed from a three-masted schooner in two small boats, and when last seen were on their way to shore. Immigration authorities in Boston were notified and the police of New Bedford. Two immigration officers arrived here this morning to investigate the case.

READVILLE FATHER OF SIX HANGS HIMSELF

The six children of Stephen J. Curran sit dumb with sorrow in a cottage at No. 18 Blanchard street, Readville, today, while their mother sobs quietly in despair.

Last night their father went out for a walk and never came back. Today his body was found hanging from a tree-branch in a patch of woods in the rear of his home. He had recently been injured at the mill of the B. F. Blumenthal Company, where he was employed. Despondency followed.

PARENTS PROTEST BRIDGE AS DANGER TO TOTS IN PLAY PARK

"HAVE A HEART AND LET US HAVE OUR PLAYGROUND!" That's what little Margaret Mahoney and Mabel Snell say about this bridge business. The photograph shows them enjoying the Magazine Beach playground.

WHO SHALL BE SERVED—RECREATION LOVING CHILDREN OR PLEASURE SEEKING MOTORISTS?

Parents, street leaders and even the children themselves have risen in bitter protest against the plan of the Boston City Hall which would cut up the Magazine Beach and playground in Cambridge merely to re-route the Cottage Farm bridge for the convenience of automobilists. Photo-diagram and map clearly shows what the proposed bridge would do to the recreation grounds. Fans of the plan declare it would endanger the lives of children by auto traffic. Proponents say that the change would mean direct route from Central Square to Brookline Village.

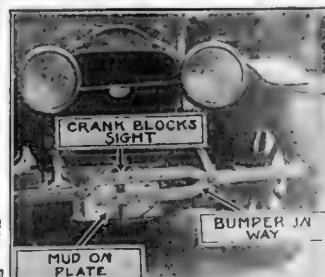

HAVE YOU A LITTLE DIPHTHERIA GERM IN YOUR BOAT? The Schick test will show it. Dr. John A. General of the Boston Board of Health using the test on Theresa Augusta, 11. This method reveals the slightest symptoms.

HE'S BEEN READING the American's Comic Page! The laughing Jackson, at the Franklin Park one is one of the funniest I'd follow out there. Take the children out. He'll make them laugh, too.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY GYM JAM GIRLS GYMMING ON THE COLLEGE ROOF! B. U. girls are high minded as it is quite natural to find the gym class taking the air and the lunk out of their muscles on the roof of the School of Mechanical Sciences. All gym work is now done on the roof except in stormy weather. Here is a group doing one of many difficult gym stunts.

CROWLEY IS AFTER your number! The police superintendent makes it plain he wants auto number plates in plain view. He has ordered his men to watch for plates obscured with mud and hidden by other obstructions. Here is a sample of the offense, picked up at random on Boston's streets. Car-brushers use this method to disguise their plates to secure a free getaway. If you hide your plate with kumputer, be careful you don't get bumped.

THEY CAME UP SMILING! EVELYN PEAKLAND, 8, and her baby sister, Marion, of No. 24 Arbusta street, Dorchester, who were injured when Mrs. Margaret Hodges of Milton drove her machine into their baby carriage trying to avoid hitting a youth on Blue Hill avenue, Dorchester. The carriage was badly damaged.

EUPID'S AT IT AGAIN! Miss Catherine Wadsworth of Chestnut street, popular member of the younger set, who made Lewis B. McGee, Jr., of New York on June 27. He is a Harvard man.

KIPPY KAPE FOR BEACH KOMBERS! Smart and practical rubber cape for the sea shore. Won't absorb the moisture from wet bathing suits. Made in various lengths and styles.

SHE BATTLED OUT A KNIFE PRIZE! Miss Frances Bennett of No. 111 Condit street, Southie, will be mailed a check for $5 on today's Pretty Knicker Girl! Send all photos to Editorial Editor, Boston American.

WHAT PROPOSED EXTENSION OF TUNNEL MEANS TO DORCHESTER! MAP and photo-diagram clearly indicate the huge area in Dorchester that will be opened up to rapid transit, the extension beginning at Andrew Square and proceeding under Dorchester avenue to the Everett avenue station on the Charlestown branch of the New Haven road. The city of Boston, which will build the tunnel, wants the Elevated to run a mile at a cost of $1.5 million.

BUY—AND THEN SAY GOODBYE TO YOUR SAVINGS! Modest home of Forest Spinnery at No. 25 Stanley avenue, Mattapan. Acquired for $4,000. Six years ago he was worth $19,933 a year. Now he pays $35.20 on every thousand dollars. We believe in building, but not in excessive taxation. Civic virtue is one thing and might make a difference.

"Our bathroom became a problem"

"Bob says that I'm the best housekeeper in New England. That's not true, of course—but I am sure there isn't a more particular one in the world. Imagine how I feel when my splendid little bathroom developed an odor which we couldn't get rid of. 'It won't really be objectionable,' but it was always noticeable. I had the plumbing inspected. There was nothing wrong with it. It was scrubbed and scrubbed. I used Lysol and I've used all the domestic compounds—everything I could think of. It didn't do a bit of good. I was simply miserable. 'Bob came in with a grin one evening. 'Trust me, man, some day,' he said. 'I think we've found the remedy for the bathroom.' We had Bob had brought home our first bottle of Sylvan-Nol. 'I wouldn't have thought it possible that anything as easy to use could make that room fresh and sweet again in such a short time. It was almost miraculous. I wouldn't be without Sylvan-Nol for anything. And I have found so many other necessary uses for it that I've freshened up the whole house.' For many years, thousands of thorough New England housekeepers have used Sylvan-Nol. It is a disinfectant. It assures the cleanliness that keeps families healthy. It is a restorer. It is a preservative for sinks and drains, for cellars, for the breeding of germs. And, of course, it should be used regularly around the bathroom. It is—and as a disinfectant for the closet bowl. Sylvan-Nol is 45¢ a quart, as safe to have in the house as a case of scolding soap. It doesn't hurt your skin. It comes in four bottle sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If you haven't, he can get it for you by the name—Sylvan-Nol."

MOTHER FINDS GIRL STUNNED BY BURGLAR

When Mrs. Patrick J. Mahan turned the key to the front door of her home at No. 61 Fairview street, Dorchester, after several hours' absence, the first thing that greeted her was the sight of her thirteen-year-old daughter Lillian lying face downward on the floor, unconscious. Mrs. Mahan found the house had been ransacked from top to bottom; the telephone and electric light wires cut and the family silver missing.

The girl was revived with brandy and today was conscious. She said the burglar had entered through the back door and had taken her jewelry and silverware. She said she had been alone at home when the burglar entered. She said she had been alone at home when the burglar entered. She said she had been alone at home when the burglar entered.

If Men's Clothes Grew in Gardens

(As Adam's first suit did)

What an endless variety of styles there would be—some picked too soon and some not soon enough, and no one could say which were right and which were wrong.

But happily style is not a product of nature, but of human hands—a matter of choice rather than chance. And the beauty of it is that good style adds nothing to the cost of your clothes, though it adds to the price in some stores.

Quality alone determines the price in this Live Store. We give you style without extra charge. And it's always correct style, too. No other kind is ever here.

Kuppenheimer Suits

Whether it's in their most extreme creations for young men or their most dignified models for ultra-conservative bankers and lawyers, Kuppenheimer style is always good style—sets the pace, in fact, for many of the smaller manufacturers. And what's equally important, Kuppenheimer style is permanent style. The quality of the materials and the thoroughness of the tailoring make the original good looks of a Kuppenheimer Suit as permanent as the virgin wool fabric of which it is made.

CONWAY PICKS GREB IN BOUT AT BOSTON ARENA TONIGHT

WILL TRY TO PUT OVER
KAYO ON RIVAL

By JACK CONWAY

Harry Greb, a wonder fighter, is in our midst to do battle with Al Roberts at the Army A. A. show at the Boston Arena. The battle is a light-heavyweight also fell in line up along Tremont street today, so give the once over to our flapper brigade. So that talk will be the Triple A's show is concerned.

Greb happened to get a look at a pre-battle statement issued by Roberts in which the Billy Gibson protegee told the world he's going to win.

"I'm mighty glad to get a shot at Roberts tonight," said the Eagle entry. "You know we had a little bout while in the service. I was going along easy when Roberts clouted me on the jaw. I was dazed for a few minutes."

"It was a chance blow, in my opinion. You may be sure Al won't get over a big sock tonight. I'll knock him out in a round if possible."

"Of course I realize he's fought twenty or thirty tough light-heavyweights, but he'll find himself pluffed against the daddy of 'em all this p. m."

Greb is an ambitious fighter. He has his plans all set for grabbing three ring titles. He gets a whiff at the light-heavyweight championship when he meets Gene Tunney in New York on May 26. He's signed an agreement with Tex Rickard. He also believes he would be able to outpoint Jack Dempsey in a tussle of limited duration.

Greb has been particularly successful in his Boston stints. He has won over Roper, Reed and Darcy in contests staged in this city.

The Pittsburgh man is a jumping jack style of boxer. He can hit from every angle and while around the ring like a merry-go-round. Tom Gibbons looked like a million dollars against Pat McCaffrey, but

Jack Conway's Tips on Short
Enders Upset the Talent

Jack Conway says a real tipster is one who can put over short enders; also a person who is not obliged to consult with back alley heels before writing his selections. He might have added that it takes a wizard to overcome the handicap of insufficient judges and referees.

Anyhow Jack slipped the tip on Thade to defeat Stegal, Edwards to wallop Moore, Calza to win over Gardini and Calza to trounce London, all juicy short enders.

Conway hailed Calza as a wonder wrestler months ago. Other experts are now recognizing the natural ability of the Italian champion.

Jack has named eighteen straight winners even though some very inefficient officials handed Jack Perry a decision over Eddie Shorlin.

Of course Conway picked Carpenter. And he said it would be a setup.

For tonight he picks Harry Greb to win over Al Roberts.

Greb made him look like an also

Nobody was surprised when Georges Carpentier knocked out Ted (Kid) Lewis in a round.

"Two a ridiculous match, as we pointed out yesterday."

Georges merely wanted to fatten his batting average so that he can get another shot at Dempsey, while Lewis was anxious to grab a big bundle of dough. "We said that Ted Kid could win two ways, as the losing boxer and also as one of the promoters of the match. Lewis didn't spend ten years of his young life in the vicinity of Gay

Broadway for nothing. The joke of the entire affair is the way Lewis bunked many of the English fight fans into believing he had a chance of winning.

GOLF

By F. G. TRAVEL

An opening day with 126 entrants at Woodland is a very good showing for the third open tournament. A high wind kept the scoring figures low and but thirty-five secured cards. Those who anticipated starting today should telephone Mr. Carter early and engage time as one for there will be trouble in getting in a round "your name" I not on the list. Nobody will be allowed to start after 4 p. m.

It was unanimous sentiment that the greens were in the pink of condition. The 14th and 18th fairways are very dry and the new drainage has worked wonders here. The register 14th tee will be played today yesterday, but a large new turf is being constructed immediately in front to the side of the present one which will be greatly appreciated by all, as the present one is altogether too near the 8th green.

Qualification for the championship of the Bay State Automobile Association may be made on either of the following dates: At Commencement on May 23, or at Lake Spotford, June 17. The first thirty-two low scores will qualify for match play elimination rounds. The first Bay State event is announced for the twenty-second.

While prizes offered for best gross and net score in Classes A and B members may bring guests, and lunch will be served at the club house.

RED SOX HOPE TO GET STARTED AGAINST WHITE SOX TODAY

SOX CLASH WITH SOX AT FENWAY PARK

By NICK FLATLEY
Batting Kid Gleason, who has infused the spirit of winning into a baseball team that was scheduled to fall out of the league a month ago, arrived in these parts today with his Chicago. He lingers around for four ball games, and expects to pick up the Western assault where Ty Cobb left off.

The Kid and Johnny Evers, his efficient and peppery right eye, have surprised the league this spring, and their ball club has been going at a very lively clip. The Chicago have lost a couple more than they have captured, but they haven't been the victims of so many of those athletes evidently carried the hustle right into the campaign, are now in a tie for fourth place, and not so far from third that a couple of wins won't perch them there. So there was no soft picking coming to the lively brigade, which is a bit of a present, after administering a dose of pipe sermons. The pep and the "ambush" that marked the Red Sox results on the Senators have been about these last few days, and unless it returns promptly the outfit is likely to get bogged in the cellar.

Crowds have been pretty good here thus far, but the fall-off has started, and if the team doesn't hop forth and collect a few victories the gang will keep away from the Fenway in large and expensive numbers. The invaders from Chicago are getting by with one season's hard work. Urban Faber, and a flock of young men who can hardly be said to have made a surety of themselves in the main baseball harbor yet.

No-hit Robertson is the biggest spring attraction in captivity, and promises to be a mighty fine pitcher next down the white trail, but he isn't at all what could be called a veteran yet.

The mighty Mister Faber has his personal effectiveness this spring and is one man hunter for any club to jump. The no-hit youth is trailing along with Urban, so the opposition is assured a couple of noon afternoons in a series, anyhow.

The big pair will be reserved for next week's engagements, as Robertson worked Wednesday and Faber yesterday, so the Sox have a chance to get away from the defeat habit at the expense of the better lights. Either Wilkinson or Hodge will be chased out this afternoon, and the Fenway matters can better either one of them.

All arrivals on the Boston churline, which was practically null and void throughout the Tiger visit. After getting a couple of jolts, of Jack Quinn is due to win a game, and looked like the most promising kind to send forth for that purpose.

Herbie Pennock, who only remained a couple of frames against the Yankees, is also in line to pitch a real pastime any afternoon.

RED SOX STARS GUESTS

OF QUINCY K. OF C.
Mike Monahan, Joe Duggan, and "Red" Kline, Al Valera, Ferguson and George Burns are expected to be the guests of honor at baseball night of the New York Quincy Council K. of C., at Poland's Hall, tonight.

HE'S THE CHOICE OF ALL THE EXPERTS

By SAM HALL

Louisville, Ky., May 12.—Morvich, first; My Play, second; Deadlock, third.

That's the way they figure to finish in the twenty-eighth renewal of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs tomorrow afternoon. Morvich has won a million friends by showing here. He has worked well and is considered to be a great horse. Nine out of ten like his chances very much.

My Play, full brother of Man O'War, is expected to be running because long hours could not. They say My Play was not prepared for a race, but we surmise that he was under cover. He is a racehorse and would be in the money.

Deadlock is said to be ready and feared as much as that horse that has been out of luck, his only entry, out of the track.

It is hard to see how any horse could win the Kentucky Derby, but we hardly think so.

More Horses Will Start, as Busy American Is Out.

The way it looks now, nine horses will start with the Kentucky Derby.

It is a good thing after a splendid and exciting race.

Here they are, with the prices around the post or turned up in New York lower after:

Morvich, even money.

Deadlock, 6 to 1.

My Play, 6 to 1.

By Gosh, 7 to 1.

Bel Mosk, 10 to 1.

Starlin, 10 to 1.

Nurt Rider, 20 to 1.

Lettermen, 20 to 1.

John Minn, 20 to 1.

The odds indicate that our selections are not far from wrong on the advance.

They will stand unless something happens before post time.

The prevailing opinion hereabouts is that Morvich is a great race horse, second to none outside of the super-horse, Man O'War.

It is what the horsemen call a great breaker and if not broken around the post or turned up in any way is a colt sure to make a great start for himself in the Derby.

He Looks Like a Thoroughbred from Rear

Morvich looks like a thoroughbred from the rear and a colt horse from the front, but still he can run as fast as a horse can run. He has a knee that looks bad but he uses it well.

Morvich has a splendid disposition. He does not worry getting away. If he gets a 10 to 1 break in the look at the gateway he will be in front when the horses pass the judge's stand the first time. What's more, he is liable to play there.

There is one thing, Morvich will not dog it. He's from a sprinting breed and all that, but he runs up till he is through, and no man and no horse can do more. From what we have heard and seen Morvich is not through very soon, either.

There May be Nine Starters in the Great Race Saturday

Now, there may be nine, probably will be, and there may be eight and there may be less starters.

Albert Johnson will ride Morvich. He rode him often as a two-year-old and he knows the horse. Morvich and Johnson should win. That goes provided Benjamin Black's horse gets going when the wheeling is lifted and is not interfered with in the scramble for a rich prize.

All the Other Jockeys Will Be Against the Black Horse

The longest race Morvich ever ran as a two-year-old was a mile. He won that. Now he gives a quarter of a mile further than that in front of the first crowd a Kentucky Derby never saw and it has been some crowd.

Kentucky jockeys will be against Morvich and Albert Johnson, when they square away at the quarter post they will be in the majority. If there is a chance for him to be cheated at the start.

He starts through the work of boys and just with a crowd as well as this day. And he is going to be a big crowd to jump away on his heels.

Danvers at Manchester Danvers High will meet Manchester at Manchester today. The Danvers team is in a bad way, with several regulars out of the game.
